

Value Partners Investments Inc.

Disclosure of Equity Interests March 01, 2023

Value Partners Investments Inc. (“Value Partners”) is committed to working in the best interests of its unitholders. Our ownership structure reflects that commitment. Senior financial advisors have not only a demonstrated ability to work in their clients’ best interests but also a legal obligation to do so. Therefore, we believe that a select group of ethical, experienced advisors make the best shareholders of an investment company and will provide the clearest recommendations on how to meet the needs of our investors.

Value Partners Group Inc. (“VPGI”) is the parent company of Value Partners and is owned by senior financial advisors and by employees of Value Partners. Financial advisors that are shareholders in VPGI stand to benefit from the inflow of client money to the investment funds or private client accounts managed by Value Partners. However, advisors that own shares in VPGI also have a responsibility to provide direction to the management of Value Partners and through their ownership they have a means of supervising and controlling the way investors are treated and their money is managed.

VPGI owns 100 percent of Value Partners and LP Financial Planning Services Ltd. (LP Financial), a mutual fund dealer. VPGI is 40.0 percent owned by Longton Ltd., whose shareholders include specified members of the Lawton family including Paul and Sean Lawton. Paul Lawton is an officer of VPGI as well as a director and officer of both Value Partners and LP Financial. Sean Lawton is a director and advisor of LP Financial.
